Accounts/organizations

11/11/2026 11:33 am EST

Your account manager set up your organization as an account. If your organization has subsidiaries, your account manager sets them up as child accounts. For instance, if Major Media owns multiple television stations or publications, it would be the primary account, and a child account would be created for each property.

If you have access to multiple accounts, you may need to switch between them.

CivicScience Knowledge Base